Cookie Notice

Our website uses cookies. A cookie is a small file consisting of letters and numbers that we store on your computer (with your consent). These cookies allow us to distinguish you from other website users and customize the functionality of our web pages to provide you with a better browsing experience. Additionally, they enable us to enhance the website. In our Cookie Usage Policy, you can find comprehensive information about the types of cookies we use and their purposes. By continuing to use this website, you express your consent to the use of cookies.

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small text file that we (with your consent) place onto your computer or device. Cookies can serve a variety of purposes, which we will explain in more detail in the following sections. You can block or remove cookies through your internet browser or by using third-party software. However, doing so might cause issues with certain websites. By continuing to use the website, you express your consent to the use of cookies.

What are cookies used for on websites? Cookies have various tasks. Here are a few examples:

- They can store your preferences, making certain activities easier to perform.
- They can gather anonymous information about usage (such as the number of individuals using our dealer search tool). We use this information to continually improve our services.
- These files can store information about your visits to our website, and advertisers may use this information to tailor their messages to you. For instance, they might display ads for another company's products that promote our products. Remember: You can block or remove cookies at any time, but doing so will permanently delete stored information.

Cookies used on this website We use four categories of cookies on our website:

1. Strictly Necessary Cookies These are cookies essential for the website's operation. This category includes cookies that allow you to navigate to the correct pages when we update the website's functionality.
2. Performance Cookies These cookies collect information about how visitors use the website. If errors occur, they help us understand them, and they also allow us to test new features. We do not collect information that directly identifies visitors. Data is aggregated and anonymous. We use this information to improve website functionality.
3. Functionality Cookies These cookies assist us in operating specific features on the website, enhancing your user experience. They might store your preferences (such as your chosen dealer), determine whether we've already offered you a certain service (like surveys), or save more complex decisions (like a specific product you're interested in).
4. Targeting or Advertising Cookies These cookies track your visits to the website, the pages you've visited, and the links you've followed. We use this information to align our website and displayed advertisements with your interests. For this purpose, we may share this information with third parties. These cookies can also be used by third parties (such as advertising networks or external service providers like web analytics). We have no control over these cookies. It can be assumed that these cookies belong to either the Performance or Targeting categories.

Transparency and Data Sharing

We are committed to transparency. In the case of third-party cookies, like those from advertising networks or analytics providers, please note that we have limited control. Your information might be shared with third parties for targeted advertising purposes.

Stay Informed

Our goal is to provide clarity regarding cookies and their usage. If you have any questions or concerns, feel free to reach out to us.

Legal Compliance

These policies align with legal requirements, including regulations such as GDPR, to safeguard your data and privacy.

We hope this policy clarifies how we use cookies to enhance your experience. Your trust is of utmost importance to us, and we're dedicated to maintaining transparency and safeguarding your privacy.
